HMRC FACTS

£34 billion

the estimated tax gap between what HMRC should collect and what it does collect.

£26 Billion

the additional amount of annual tax income that HMRC are targeting to achieve through compliance activity.

£80 Million

spent to develop strategic risk database that automatically generates tax enquiries.

HMRC are proactively targeting individuals and businesses using sophisticated software that has been specifically developed to search trends, indicators and behaviours and analyse in minutes. Data that doesn't cross match can automatically initiate an Enquiry. This software combined with wider powers and increased targets means that your chances of being investigated are rising.
